
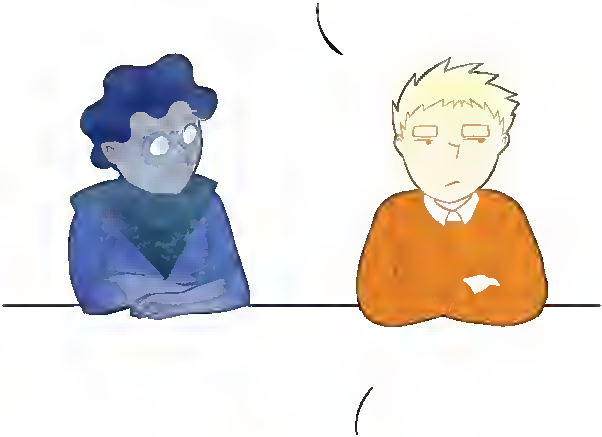
I said I'd go with him tomorrow but
I wonder if he'll still be there.



That old guy was pretty stubborn.

He didn't look too keen on it though.

Wow, thanks. Why not just give it to the old man like everyone else?

Well, I'm saying... I liked your music.

What would I be saying if I gave it the old man?

That was pretty nice of you though.

Yeah? I know right? I feel like a really cool guy.

Oh no wonder you're late today.

Just Ask Yuli

by Yulius Efferven

That's true

But on the day they're ready to be helped,

then your good intentions might make all the difference.

And what did you do after that?

Well we talked...

Hi there

I finally convinced him to come with me to Cici's Church. I thought maybe they could help him.

The lady there said that he should visit a local social service centre. She said she would look for a temporary place for him to stay and help him contact his relatives.

But you know I realised, even if you want to help someone, they won't always let you.

I guess Cici was right, it's not enough just to have good intentions.
